

A Song For My Daughter

Just once upon a yesterday
I held you in my arms
You grew into a little girl
With lovely childhood charms
Now it seems I only turned around
And I see you by his side
Oh, I can't believe my eyes today
My daughter is a bride

I guess somehow I always knew
This day would soon be here
Still I wonder as I look at you
What became of all the years
And no words could ever quite express
The way I feel inside
Oh, I can't believe my eyes today
My daughter is a bride

All the laughter and the teardrops
The sunshine and the rain
I would relive every moment, Dear
If I could bring them all back again

And now, My Love, the time has come
To send you on your way
So I wish you every happiness
And the blessings of this day
And I hope the love that I've given you
Will forever be your guide
Oh, I can't believe my eyes today
My daughter, Oh, I can't believe my eyes today
My daughter, Oh, my angel and pride
My daughter is a bride

A Song for My Son

I don't know where the time has gone
Since those little boy days - doesn't seem that long
Yet here you are, it's your wedding day
And there's one thing, darling, I'd like to say

Be kind, be sweet, be a gentleman
Care and share and always be fair
And remember, though you now have taken a wife
You will always be my son
My loving son

You filled my life with so much joy
As I watched you grow from that little boy
Now I'll try not to cry as you walk away
But just once more, darling, I'd like to say

Be kind, be sweet, be a gentleman
Care and share and always be fair
And remember, though you now have taken a wife
You will always be my son
My loving son

A Wedding Thank You

On this very special day
I think back on all my yesterdays
And the way that you've been there
Always showing me how much you care
Still I seldom took the time
To show the feelings in this heart of mine
And I want you now to know
It was you who gave me the strength to grow
So I hope that you won't mind to much
If I take some time today
To say the words of thanks
I always meant to say

Please let me thank you with this song of love
To show just how I feel
Thank you now with all my heart
And all our loved ones near Let me tell the world how much you've meant to me in every way
I want to thank you on my wedding day

One More Time

You used to love the way
I could dance on your feet
When I was a child of four
And it used to make me mad
When you just couldn't see
I wasn't that child any more
But today I'm a woman
And old enough to know
What this moment must mean to you... so

One more time I'll be your little girl
One last time I'm in ribbons and curls
And we'll waltz through our memories of days gone by
The times that we laughed and the times we cried
One more time I'll be your little girl
One last time, but you can be sure
Though all of my little girl days are through
I still love you
Daddy I love you

As We Break This Bread

As we break this bread together
Let's make this promise too...
As we live our lives from day to day
We'll remember the love we feel today
When we break our bread together

As we share this bread together
Let's swear between us two...
As we live our lives from day to day
We'll remember the loved ones here today
When we share our bread together

Day to day
As this busy world goes on its way
We'll take time
And these simple things will help remind us
Of our Wedding Day

As we bind our lives together
We'll find this simple truth...
As we live our lives from day to day
Love will help us find our way
As we break our bread together
And share our bread together
And bind our lives together

To Our Family And Friends

Here we are a bride and groom
It seems this day went by too soon
Now we stand near the days end
Sharing the love of our family and friends you have all been a part
Of this life time of love from the start
All of our lives we hoped and we prayed
For a story-book ending this way
But now that the hour is finally near Just can't let go of this love we hold dear
So Let's tell the world we know
We got love and won't let go
Hold on...

(Chorus)

Hold on, there's a party goin' on Hold on real tight
Hold on, there's a party goin' on
With our family and our friends tonight

You've joined our celebration
Danced and had some fun
What better way to end this day
Now that we are one
Get up, get out here
This ain't no time to hide
We want to party till the end of time

(Repeat Chorus)

Don't let go, tomorrow's gonna have to wait
There's no time like right now
To tell you how we feel
You've made this day a special one
Now all our dreams are real
Get up, get out, We want you by our side
We want to party to the end of time
